LANIWAI

A Disney SPA

The spa at Aulani, Laniwai, meaning “freshwater heaven,” embraces the Hawaiian connection to, and reverence for, nature. In particular, the spa’s design explores the cultural and even spiritual significance of ānuenuē, rainbows. We do this by combining elegantly reflected light, brilliant color, and healing water features, creating a mystical aura. At Laniwai, our guests are pampered in a way that enhances their connection to nature and sets them on a path to personal enlightenment.

Rainbows have come to be known as a symbol of Hawai'i because of the frequency with which brilliant, magical rainbows appear. When moisture and sunshine combine in just the right proportion, the magical phenomenon of a rainbow occurs. Ua, rain, is a gift from the heavens, bringing vital freshwater, wai, and may symbolize joy, life, and good fortune. Rain-bearing clouds fill streams in high mountain forests, which flow through the plains and empty into the sea. These streams provide the people living in the ahupua'a, land divisions, their source of life. The cycle of the water continues as it evaporates and returns to the heavens from whence it came. Lanikai...

The curative powers of water have been celebrated for centuries and are the origins of contemporary spa therapies. We invite you to celebrate the healing wonders of nature.

KULA WAI (water source)

Early Hawaiians used water and heat therapies with massage to treat illnesses and to help restore the body's functionality. Hawaiians bathed in fresh, cool streams, mineral and sulfur baths and the sea. The use of water temperature fluctuations "reset" the body's regulatory system to boost the immune system and increase circulation to wash away daily aches and pains. We invite you to Kula Wai, a 5,000-square-foot outdoor hydrotherapy garden to enjoy before or after your spa services.

EXPERIENCE

You will also be invited to experience our herbal pools, six unique "rain showers," hot and cold whirlpools and outdoor relaxation. In addition, you will be invited to blend with your spa host a complimentary Hawaiian body polish at our mixology station, Pulu, meaning to make soft, soak, moisten, saturate.
